

A Yorkshire Chair?

I should be very grateful for information on the oak armchair illustrated here. More than 35 years ago it was exhibited at Temple Newsam when it was suggested that it was 'probably made in the Leeds-Bradford area' circa 1660-1670. It was described as 'very similar to a chair dated 1665 at Eyam Church'. I wonder if more recent research would confirm or advance this information. If any member would like to study it in detail, viewing could be arranged.

Ann Lightman

