

Obituary

It is with great regret that we have to report the death of Cliff Streeter on 29th May 1989.

In the RFS he will be mainly remembered for his meticulous organisation of interesting and enjoyable "events".

Cliff left school at 14 and served his apprenticeship as a joiner at Newport Docks during the war while studying at Newport Technical College in the evenings. At 21 he obtained a job as handyman/part time woodwork teacher and trained as a teacher, again in the evenings.

He went on to become:

Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts
Fellow of the College of Craft Education
Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Carpenters and Builders
Fellow of the College of Handicraft (Hons.)

A very knowledgeable man who never flaunted his knowledge, but was always glad to share it, a man of kindness and high principles who lived according to his beliefs. Cliff is remembered with respect and affection by all who were privileged to know him.
